Slaughter Blames Hannegan

Calls Upon Truman To Dismiss Him From His Cabinet; Turns to 'Record'

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—(P)—Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, the Democrat President Truman didn't want back in Congress, blamed Robert E. Hannegan today for his party's smarting defeats in Tuesday's election and then called upon the president to dismiss Hannegan from his cabinet as postmaster general.

Slaughter also called for Hannegan's resignation as both national democratic chairman and national committeeman from Missouri.

The democratic congressman from Missouri's fifth district also blasted at the Pendergast democratic organization which brought about his primary defeat last August to Enos A. Axtell, who was beaten Tuesday by Republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

"In Jackson county the election served notice on certain interests that the day of bulldozing tactics is over," Slaughter's statement said. "This is a democratic county and no democrat who is the true choice of the party need have any trouble of election in this county."

For Reorganization
Slaughter suggested a state-wide democratic meeting to reorganize under the leadership of Democratic Governor Phil M. Donnelly. He said "Hannegan and ruin have been synonymous in democratic affairs in Missouri."

"Hannegan in his dual role of chairman and postmaster general has brought the democratic party in Missouri to the lowest ebb it ever has experienced," Slaughter's statement said. "For the first time since Missouri became a state in 1821, with the exception of the reconstruction period, there will be two republican senators."

Slaughter then turned to Hannegan's "political record" in Missouri.

"In 1940 he brought forward Lawrence McDaniel and succeeded in having him beaten for governor at the same time the rest of the democratic ticket was winning by 100,000 . . .," he said.

Dickmann Beaten
"St. Louis city had a democratic administration for many years, but under Hannegan's direction Mayor Dickmann was beaten, with the result that the city went into the republican column."

Slaughter called Tuesday's election the "greatest setback to government by pressure groups that this country has yet experienced." "Unless President Truman is willing to recognize this fact and set his sails accordingly, the democratic party is unalterably committed to a course that can only end in defeat two years hence, both nationally and in Missouri," his statement continued. "It is generally thought that it was Hannegan who convinced Mr. Truman that he must maintain a close alliance with the democratic dominated C. I. O.-P. A. C."

No Slackening Of Controls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A top government official said today there will be no slackening of price and wage decontrol in the wake of the administration's election debacle.

Even as OPA posted higher prices for many infants' and children's cotton garments and some other clothing items, this official told a reporter. The chances are better than 50-50 that price controls on all wearing apparel and textiles will be removed "very soon."

"Both price and wage decontrol will continue to be speeded up all along the line as outlined by President Truman when he announced the end of meat ceilings," a high official said.

He added that heads of government agencies concerned have been holding conferences to determine whether such items as automobiles and basic commodities like coal, building materials, steel and other metals should be freed of controls at this time.

OPA said today many cotton garments for infants and children will cost from 10 to 15 per cent more, while men's individually packaged handkerchiefs will go up by 25 per cent.

The agency said this will result from allowing manufacturers to add increases in labor and material costs to their present ceilings.

Rioting In India

NEW DELHI, Nov. 7.—(AP)—At least three persons were killed and seven injured in New Delhi today in an outbreak of Hindu-Muslim rioting broken up only after police opened fire.

Looting and continued communal warfare also were reported in Bombay, where police used small arms fire in a battle against rioting crowds.

Large Tractor-Trailer and Car Collide

The above picture shows the results of a collision between a Plymouth sedan, driven by Jack Loft, 1218 South Ohio avenue, and an International tractor trailer, on the West Main street road, just east of Gasoline Alley junction about 3:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Loft's car is nosed into a ditch on the left, the large tractor-trailer is in the ditch on the right. State Troopers are in the middle questioning witnesses. (Staff Photo.)

Republican Sweep in Missouri Causes Some Research Work

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—(P)—The Republican sweep in Tuesday's election in Missouri caused statistical-minded politicians to do a little research work. Today they submitted the following findings.

The majority of nearly 60,000 given Frank Kem, candidate for senator, is the biggest Republican majority for a state candidate in the history of Missouri elections, with the sole exception of 1920 when Arthur M. Hyde topped that figure in the Harding landslide in his race for the governorship.

For the first time in 75 years both Missouri senators in the next congress will be Republicans. The Republicans elected nine of the thirteen candidates for representatives in congress. Only once before has the Republican representation from this state been as large. In 1921-22, following the Harding landslide, when 14 of

Miss Hurlbut Tells of Her Work in Africa

Pinkney Miller Elected President Of Kiwanis Club

Miss Mary Hurlbut, Congregational church missionary in the Southwest African field, spoke before the Sedalia Kiwanis club today noon, telling of her experiences in that country educating the natives.

She spoke about the odd customs of the natives, their superstitions and habits and of the missionary effort to teach them to protect their health by clean living rather than to accept disease and death as solely attributable to evil spirits.

Miss Hurlbut described the immensity of the field in which she worked in Angola, as large as several states, the lack of communications, the necessity of walking great distances to reach widely separated villages, of the school problems and the natives' desire for education in spite of the handicap of learning a foreign language—Portuguese.

Educational Talk
Kiwanians agreed that Miss Hurlbut's talk was an educational one for themselves and one that is worthy of being heard by all Sedalia clubs and societies.

The speaker was introduced by Ray Hunt, acting program chairman.

The club sang birthday greetings to Pinkney Miller.

During the meeting the club members elected the following officers to serve during 1947:

President, Pinkney Miller; vice-president, Ben Robinson; treasurer, C. L. Hanley. Directors: W. F. Keyser, the Rev. H. U. Campbell, L. W. Satorius, Ed McLaughlin, John Ryan, Herbert Schrankler and Ray Hunt.

Dr. J. E. Cannaday was a guest of Damon Hieronymus.

Book Club Meets At Library Friday

The Book Club for the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grade students will meet at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Public Library. The story will be "Black Stallion Returns." Miss Lavila Smart, children's librarian, will be in charge of the meeting.

Solves Problem, Eats Birds

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(P)—Is-mil Hindeway, who was forbidden by the government to take his 18 canaries to Egypt last August, believes he has solved the problem in a practical way—he says he ate them.

The 186-pound Egyptian sailed yesterday for his homeland on the Marine Corp. When asked where his canaries were he said: "I have eaten them. I must get to Alexandria to see my sick mother."

In August Hindeway wept on a Hudson river pier when officials told him he couldn't take his tweet-tweeting little friends on board the Marine Corp.

"I have no wife. I have no family. I cannot leave my little children. I cannot live without them," Hindeway cried to the sympathetic officials.

Talk on Credit Regulations at RCA Banquet

Mrs. McMullin Installed as Ass'n President

Stephen Koptis, manager of the Consumer Credit department of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, was the speaker Wednesday night at the annual banquet of the Retail Credit Association held at Bothwell hotel.

Claude L. Boul presided at the meeting, which was opened with the singing of "America" led by Charles Hanna with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Invocation was by the Rev. A. J. Brunswick, pastor of the Sacred Heart church.

Mrs. Herbert Hall, out-going president of the organization, was presented with a container of chrysanthemums.

The following newly elected officers were installed by Mr. Boul: Mrs. Ollie McMullin, president; Mrs. Mary Simon, vice president and Lee Redman, treasurer.

Vocal Numbers
Mr. Hanna, accompanied by Miss Fox sang an old song which has lived through the years, "I Hear You Calling Me" and then a song written following the First World War as a contrast in songs. The second one was popular only a few weeks he said. Later he sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

New members of the association were introduced. They were Harold Seaberg, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hamilton, Charles Cook, G. H. Rountzong, R. T. Hicks and P. L. Gallion.

A moving picture on "The Story of Credit" was shown by Pinkney Miller.

Mr. Koptis was then introduced and spoke on "Regulation W."

Mapping Congress' Course

Expect Martin to Be Speaker; Some Republicans Already Framing Projects

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(P)—Elated Republicans, lifted to control of Congress for the first time in 15 years, turned today to mapping their legislative course while word came that President Truman did not intend to resign.

Newsman were enabled to report without qualification that Mr. Truman had not even seriously considered suggestions that he step out of his high office and let a republican have it.

Certainly, he will not resign, reporters were informed.

Another idea cropping up after the G. O. P. landslide—that Mr. Truman should call a special "lame duck" session of congress—was brushed off by Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) who is high in Democratic councils.

The Alabamian, a senator-elect, said of this proposal from Reps. Boykin (D-Ala) and Rankin (D-Miss):

"I don't see that anything could be accomplished. The congress which convened last spring would not enact the president's program and I can't see that it would do it as a lame duck congress."

Truman Silent
Mr. Truman himself kept silent publicly on the crushing defeat his party suffered in the elections and there were indications he would say nothing before next week at the earliest.

White House Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president has a head cold and probably will hold no news conference before next week. He said the cold was "nothing serious."

Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan also was "under the weather." He entered Walter Reed Army hospital for a periodical check-up, required, his office said, for dental work done earlier in the year.

Republican planning will get down to an official basis a week from today when the house steering committee meets here on call of Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the present minority leader who is expected to become speaker.

G. O. P. Frame Projects
Individual Republicans already were busy framing projects. From Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), slated to become chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee, came a declaration that individual income taxes will be slashed 20 per cent.

That and promises of a balanced budget brought this retort from the present committee chairman, Rep. Doughton (D-NC):

"The Republicans have promised more than they can ever accomplish. They have promised to lower taxes and to balance the budget, and now that they have the opportunity, we will see just how they do it."

In the election itself, late returns brought victory for Senator Dennis Chavez (D) in his reelection contest with Patrick Hurley (R) in New Mexico.

Children Fatally Burned in Explosion and Home Fire

LEBANON, Mo., Nov. 7.—(P)—Three children died and another was critically burned today in an explosion and fire which destroyed a two-story residence.

The victims were Harold Hemphill, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Hemphill, and Daris Dickens, four, and Eddie Lee Dickens, two, children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickens.

Critically burned was Bonnie Hemphill, 14.

The four were alone in the house at the time. Firemen said indications were that either kerosene or gasoline had been used to start or revive a fire in the kitchen cook stove. It was wrecked as if by an explosion.

The bodies of Harold Hemphill and Daris Dickens were found in the kitchen of the home. The body of Eddie Lee Dickens was found in the living room, death apparently having been caused, firemen said, by suffocation.

Harold Hemphill attended school this morning and apparently had come home for his lunch.

Fire which followed the explosion was confined largely to the kitchen of the two-story seven room home.

Griessen Has Position With Equipment Co.

Retains County Office; Court Names Road Superintendent

F. A. Griessen, 903 South Kentucky avenue, Pettis county surveyor and ex-officio county engineer, has accepted a sales position with the Noel V. Woods Industrial Equipment Co., Kansas City. He has assumed his position traveling in Missouri and Kansas, but will maintain his headquarters and residence in Sedalia.

Griessen, in agreement with the Pettis county court through a resolution introduced by Presiding Judge J. V. Kesterson and passed last October, took a cut in salary from $166.66 to $100. Griessen explained he is not resigning as county surveyor, and in accordance with the state law, which gives the county court the privilege of setting the salary at a minimum of $1,200 to a maximum of $2,000, the salary was placed at the minimum.

As county surveyor he will continue to draw his $100 per month, the minimum salary.

Name Road Superintendent
At the time the court resolution was passed it was recommended a superintendent of construction be employed. John Prall, 718 East Third street, has been appointed to this position at a salary of $240 per month. The state law does not set a salary for employees, only for elective officials, which Mr. Griessen is.

Griessen this morning stated Prall will assume full responsibility for county road work, but that he, Griessen, will still have full responsibility over the equipment. He also said that any engineering work to be done he would personally supervise.

Mr. Prall is also qualified to operate all of the county machinery, and although he is the supervisor he will handle the equipment.

Mr. Griessen stated the arrangement was agreed to between the court and himself, there is no party rift whatsoever, and he is not resigning as rumors being circulated have indicated.

British Appeal for Grain
LONDON, Nov. 7.—(P)—An authoritative government source said today that American occupation authorities likely would send grain into the British zone of Germany immediately in response to an urgent British appeal.

The British press association said Great Britain had decided not to give Germany more food from its own larder. A winter food famine is threatened in the British occupation zone of Germany.

Returns in Kansas
TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—(P)—Complete unofficial returns from 2,627 precincts of Kansas' 2,745 in Tuesday's general election gave for governor: Frank Carlson, republican, 292,937; Harry H. Woodring, democrat, 241,089.

Too Many Extra Activities
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—(P)—Roy Scantlin, state superintendent of schools, told 10,000 teachers here for the Missouri State Teachers' Association convention that too much attention was being given to extra-curricular activities at the expense of class room education.

"It is interesting to realize how many organizations and special interests have discovered the public schools," Scantlin said in criticizing "time consuming promotional endeavors."

He saw a repetition of post World War I school history, saying that while military examinations had shown physical defects

Retain Right To Certain Pacific Isles

Same as if U. S. Had Annexed the Islands Outright

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(P)—The United States, facing a potentially hot debate over its offer of limited United Nations jurisdiction over Japanese-mandated Pacific Islands, today urged the U. N. to set up a Trusteeship Council immediately without injecting the veto into discussions.

By Max Harrelson
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(P)—The United States made it clear today that she would reserve sweeping rights, especially military, in the Japanese mandated islands which President Truman offered last night to place under United Nations trusteeship.

One delegate, who did not want to be identified, said the military rights demanded by the United States were exactly the same as she would have if she annexed the islands outright.

The U. S. terms for turning the islands—the Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas—over to the U. N. are contained in a draft agreement now being circulated among the 11 members of the Security Council and two other nations, New Zealand and the Philippines.

Disclosure of the terms gave rise to immediate speculation that Russia would almost certainly attack the proposals and might possibly veto them in the Security Council. In the latter event, however, the islands would continue in their present status as occupied enemy territory.

Could Bar Inspection
The draft agreement not only reserves to the United States unrestricted rights to establish military, naval and air bases within the trust territory, but provides that any or all of the area may be declared closed for security reasons.

This means that the United States would be able to bar U. N. inspection of the entire area if she desired to do so.

Other sweeping provisions of the agreement:

1. The United States, as the sole administering authority, could bar the aircraft of any other nation from entering the area, which is 1,500 miles long and 800 miles wide and contains approximately 1,500 islands of various sizes.

2. The United States would reserve the right to give certain economic privileges exclusively to American nations.

3. The terms of the agreement could be altered, amended or terminated without the consent of the United States.

Counting Absentee Ballots Today
Counting of the absentee ballots for Pettis county is being conducted this afternoon at the office of County Clerk James Green. There are 100 ballots to be counted, seven soldier ballots and 93 civilian ballots.

It is expected to take from two to three hours to complete the total count by two Democratic and two Republican judges.

The Democratic judges are Ray Hunt and Henry Engel, Jr., and the Republicans, Ed Zoellig and George Hoffman.

Dead Candidate Wins in Election
RICHLAND, Wash., Nov. 7.—(P)—The republican landslide carried a dead candidate to victory.

Thad Grosscup, republican candidate for county commissioner in this atomic bomb project community, died of a heart ailment a few hours before voting began.

Election officials hastily ruled to allow voting for the office to proceed and to appoint a republican to the commission if Democrat Max Walton was defeated.

Tabulations today showed that the dead man had won.

Veterans Office to Close Saturday Noon
Effective Saturday, Nov. 7, the local veterans administration office at 511 South Ohio street, Sedalia, will close Saturdays at noon, it was announced by W. F. Fidler in charge of the local office.

The new 44 hour week was ordered by the veterans administration regional office in Kansas City, for all offices under its jurisdiction.

Thinks of Foreign Reaction

Truman Giving no Thought to Talk of Resignation; No Statement Now

By Ernest B. Vaccaro
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(P)—President Truman is not going to resign and has not even seriously considered the possibility. This can be reported today without qualification.

The suggestion that Mr. Truman appointed a Republican secretary of state and resign to permit the GOP to take over the presidency came from Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

It was echoed in some newspapers normally Democratic, but Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) asserted that such a step was "not the thing to do."

The attitude around the White House today was that the suggestion should not be dignified by comment either from the president or any member of his staff.

It was known that Mr. Truman himself felt that to resign now after the Democrats' crushing election defeat, would be to run out on the job.

Moreover, the president is known to hold the view that he should not change the American constitutional system by such a move.

Not Discussed
Some political observers also are strongly of the opinion that the Republicans themselves would not want a Democrat to choose a president for them. Such would be the case if Mr. Truman followed the course Fulbright suggests.

There also was a question as to who the president might submit a resignation even if he had such a thought in mind.

Persons in a position to know said there had been "very little discussion" around the White House about the future course of the administration.

There seemed little prospect of any direct statement by the president until next week on either Fulbright's suggestion or the chief executive's reaction to the election outcome.

Presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman will not hold a news conference this week. Mr. Truman himself told reporters seeking his reaction yesterday that he would see them in a day or two.

Foreign Reaction of Concern
As far as the election is concerned, close friends said, Mr. Truman is far more concerned about foreign reaction to the Democratic defeat than he is about his own political future.

Declining to be quoted by name, these members of the chief executive's inner circle said he will emphasize in the two years ahead the two-party support behind the nation's foreign policy voiced by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. This policy has been firmly endorsed by Republican Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and former Republican Senator Warren Austin, now United States representative to the United Nations.

Men who talked privately with the president said that while he was visibly disappointed over the Democratic setback and the defeat of some of his warmest personal allies, he was far from being "down-hearted."

They reported that:

1. Mr. Truman has no thought of "political reprisals" against who helped upset his party's control in the legislative branch of the government.

2. He is confident that Republican control of congress beginning next January will enable him to place direct responsibility upon that party for future rejections of administrative proposals.

Hal Boyle's Advice on How to Travel Abroad

By Hal Boyle
(who has spent the last four years abroad)

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(P)—It might be that the best way to enjoy travel abroad is with your shoes off.

"Museum feet" become a holiday disease with the average vacationist because he falls victim to foreign guides who try to inflict ten centuries of culture on him in ten days.

Elmer J. Tourist goes overseas with the wilful hope of having a good time. Instead he gets caught in a travel mill that makes his trip a day and nightmare marathon of climbing monuments, walking through endless art galleries and moping mouseholes among moldy churches.

Why does he do it? Because he's afraid somebody will think him a lowbrow — which he really knows he is anyway.

So Elmer becomes an unhappy prisoner in a small clock of fellow Americans cheeping and chirping as their despotic guide shepherds them from one pigeon target to another. All he learns is what he reads in his guidebook: "St. Paul's church is a dignified edifice in renaissance style and has an area of 59,700 square feet," it says here in small print.

A Good Rule
Nuts to that! Be your own Marco Polo.

Make a rule never to visit more than one church, one monument and one art gallery in any one country. These places are just cultural cemeteries with long staircases largely frequented by people who don't know what to do with themselves.

In most cases you can have more fun reading about them in your guidebook while lying in bed in your hotel room in your stocking feet. A cognac will help you through the dull descriptions. Then, when you've finished reading how the people used to live, you can rise fresh and rested and set about seeing how they live now. And that will teach you more than a hundred guided lectures.

You want to be where things are happening. If Pierre, the guide, tries to steer you to Napoleon's tomb — play hooky and take a walk along the left bank. Napoleon's tomb is in France in mothballs. The left bank is France in mothballs. The left bank is France in ferment.

Take a Bus Ride
The Eiffel tower, which looks like the Washington monument with its clothes off, is worth a gander. But so is a French department store.

The best way to see a strange city is to hop a bus and ride around till you see a neighborhood that interests you and then bail out and give it the once-over up close.

As to eating and drinking: If you can recognize a dish on the menu, order something else. If the diner at the next table speaks your own language, go to another restaurant.

If they serve you a steak in a small low-priced restaurant, don't whinny. The meat may neigh back at you.

Watch Your Drinks
Don't drink many "French 75s" — champagne with a cognac kick — unless at home you enjoy mixing gin and buttermilk or bourbon and hair tonic.

You'll be sorry if you don't go to at least one nightclub and stir up your stomach with a $17.50 bottle of green champagne. It's fun to be a sucker — once.

As for company, you are likely to find plenty in the bistros of Europe. In Paris, if a lady plays "drop the handkerchief" with you don't address her as "cheri" for at least twenty minutes. The French girls like their men subtle.

Giant tree frogs are mottled a mixture of gray and green and can vary their coloration to some degree.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

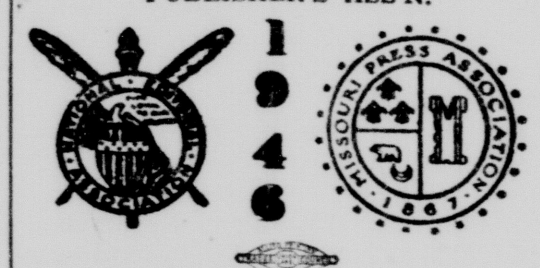

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—It has been exactly sixteen years since anyone save a Democratic elevator operator, doorkeeper, or page-boy drew a salary for chewing gum and pretending to administer to the needs of congressmen in the halls of the capitol. For sixteen long years, Republicans have been out in the very cold, patronageless world.

Now, however, comes the big job transfer. Beginning with the new Republican congress in January, 600 Democratic guards, ushers, clerks, stenographers, stationery room workers, et al will get their walking papers and 600 Republicans will take their places.

Most important of all, however, will be the new chairmen of committees, since the committees of congress shape legislation far more than most people realize. Republican chairmen for the next two years will definitely affect the course of the nation.

Here is the roll call of the most important committees and the Republicans who will run them:

Foreign affairs — Under Congressman Charles Eaton of New Jersey, the house foreign affairs committee will continue a non-partisan Truman-Roosevelt policy. Born in Canada, trained as a Baptist preacher, addicted to red neckties, Congressman Eaton has been a staunch supporter of U. S. world cooperation. When isolationist ex-congressman Ham Fish tried to dictate GOP policy on the foreign affairs committee, Eaton was continually at his throat. As a result, FDR invited the New Jersey representative to the White House rather than Fish. Eaton has occupied pulpits in Toronto, Cleveland, New York, was once editor of Leslie's Weekly, served as Canadian correspondent for the New York Tribune and the Boston Transcript.

Ways and Means — Harold Knutson of Minnesota, new chairman of this vital committee, is bad news both to his party and the country. He voted against practically every defense measure before Pearl Harbor, claimed "Hitler is displaying a fearlessness that might well be emulated by statesmen of other countries."

"Personally," proclaimed the brazen Mr. Knutson, "I cannot see much difference between Germany's actions in Norway and the New Deal program in this country."

Knutson is noisy, irrepressible, publicity-loving, has a mania for cutting taxes, especially in the higher brackets. . . . He once made a bitter attack on the late Cardinal Mundelein for favoring the reorganization bill. . . . When Time magazine called him "fuzzy," Congressman Luce, wife of Time's publisher, smoothed it over by reciting Kipling's poem, "Fuzzy Wuzzy." Her irate colleague purred, . . . Knutson will be God's gift to high-bracket taxpayers, no gift to the little fellows.

Appropriations — This is the all-important committee which decides how much the government can spend. Its new chairman will be John Taber of Auburn, N. Y., a bank director and president of a water company. He is the bull-in-the-china-closet type who once engaged in a fist fight with Congressman Cannon of Missouri and who yelled so loud that he once restored the hearing of the late Congressman Leonard Schuetz of Chicago. Schuetz always used an ear trumpet on the floor, but during one of Taber's bellowing tirades a nerve in his ear was restored and he discarded the trumpet.

Taber glories in his reputation as a penny pincher. He delighted in chopping New Deal expenditures, but once brought great grief to his isolationist colleagues by making a speech strongly defending seven billions for lend-lease.

Colleagues were aghast when Taber berated the wild life division for paying $11,500 to Mrs. E. Eugene Lay, for land near the Finger Lakes for which she wanted $16,500. Taber demanded that the interior department be penalized for this penny pinching by killing its entire $9,000,000 for wild life. It turned out that Mrs. Lay was a constituent of Congressman Taber's.

Un-American Affairs — New chairman will be J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey, bald, a snappy dresser and a wordy wrangler. His last name once was Feeney, but he changed it to more high-sounding "J. Parnell Thomas." Thomas is a Wall Street broker on leave from Paine, Webber and Company. If he had his way the un-American committee would spend all its time harrrying labor leaders. He will out-Rankin Rankin and ex-Congressman Ham Fish will be very happy.

Rules Committee — New chairman of this all-important committee, which decides what legislation can or cannot go to the floor of the house, will be Leo Allen of Illinois. Allen is pure Illinois cornbread, is Republican Leader Joe Martin's closest friend, talks little, is a middle-of-the-road conservative, does exactly what Joe Martin tells him. In the first World War he had a good record as a field artillery sergeant.

Agriculture Committee — New chairman of this important body will be Cliff Hope of Garden City, Kas., probably the ablest member of Congress in either party when it comes to agriculture. Hope wrote most of Wendell Wilkie's farm speeches and was scheduled to be Wilkie's secretary of agriculture had Wilkie been elected. Hope talks little, moves slowly, works hard. He is co-author of the bill for farm research, believes that the USA must get ready to take care of farm surpluses again, should begin now to study quick freezing, new packaging of farm products.

years old, and not afraid to state her age.

Her husband was author of the Rogers act which created the American career diplomatic service. Ever since, Mrs. Rogers has kept up her interest in foreign affairs, as well as doing a terrific job for her district. Few congressmen work harder and get more accomplished. Probably she got more favors from the Democratic administration than the average Democrat. As a long-time member of the Veterans committee, Mrs. Rogers has been battling bitterly with Chairman Rankin, will be a vast improvement over the gentleman from Mississippi.

Rivers and Harbors — New chairman probably will be George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, Mich., home town of Father Coughlin. Dondero served in congress for thirteen years, is one of three congressmen of Italian descent, the others, D'Alesandro of Baltimore and Marcantonio of New York, being much more in evidence. Dondero is a great expert on Lincoln, boasted of friendship with the late Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the Civil War president, is nice, conservative, harmless. For a time he let his office be used by Walter Steele, a vigorous, isolation lobbyist. After King George and Queen Mary came to the capital, Dondero held out his hand to friends, saying, "Shake the hand that shook the hand of a king—and has held four kings a few times."

Banking and Currency — This committee formulates all legislation dealing with federal reserve system, national banks and fiscal policy. New chairman will be Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, sometimes called the "General Motors representative in congress." Wolcott is roly-poly, smart, has a sense of humor, sets policy for members of his party on fiscal affairs. First opposed to the British loan, he later championed it. Wolcott will move to knock out federal reserve board chairman Eccles' policy of discouraging installment buying. Big bankers will wear broad smiles when Wolcott takes over this committee.

Interstate Commerce — Chairman of this committee which deals with railroads, telephones, and telegraphs is veteran representative Charles A. Wolverton of Merchantville, N. J. Though Wolverton has served in congress longer than most colleagues, he doesn't hesitate to vote with the Democrats when it comes to labor and consumers. He voted against every crippling OPA amendment, has the reputation of putting the country ahead of party.

Indian Affairs — Karl Mundt of South Dakota, new chairman of this committee, is effective, resourceful, refreshing, packs some weight with his colleagues. Mundt differs with Sol Bloom on everything pertaining to foreign affairs; hates Russia and once demonstrated good naturedly with Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia, that he and other congressmen should be allowed to peek into the ruler's harem. Mundt was a vigorous isolationist, revised his views during the war. He cracked down on Ernie Adamson, the counsel of the Rankin committee, for opposing democracy and once kidded Russian chess players in Moscow that they were taking unfair advantage of American competitors by beginning their games at midnight.

National Defense — Under the new reorganization of congress, the former naval and military affairs committees will be merged into one, probably under the chairmanship of Rep. Walter "Ham" Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y. Andrews is a conservative, conscientious congressman with a good record in World War I, who believes that the sun rises and sets with the brass hats. The army will get what it wants from him. He will be a big improvement, however, over the retiring chairman from Kentucky, Andrew Jackson May.

"Mrs. Hans F. Winterkorn and son, Hans Frederick III, are in Columbia visiting Mrs. Winterkorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Zumwalt of 15 Broadway," states a recent article in a Columbia newspaper. It continues: "They will remain in Columbia for about two weeks and will then return to Princeton, N. J., where they will board the Pan American clipper to Rio de Janeiro. They will be met there by Dr. Winterkorn who has been in South America since September and will be guests of the Brazilian government for one or two weeks. "From Rio they will fly to Buenos Aires and on to Bolivia as guests of both governments. The next stop will be Uruguay where they will be entertained by General de Colina, Mr. and Mrs. Boetling in the Cordoba mountains and Mr. and Mrs. Nilsen in the Andes mountains. "Dr. and Mrs. Winterkorn and their son will return to Princeton the latter part of January where Dr. Winterkorn will resume his teaching at Princeton university following a leave of absence."

Mrs. Winterkorn is the former Miss Hazel Zumwalt, at one time a resident of Sedalia and a nurse at the Bothwell hospital.

Mrs. William Yeagle entertained, Wednesday evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, 724 West Third street, in honor of Miss Mary Ann McGurran, who will become the bride of Roger F. Fuller, November 14.

The color scheme was green and white. The center piece on the dining table was of white carnations. On each side of the carnations were green candles in crystal holders. The favors were marsh-mallow brides.

During the evening bridge and Tripoli were played. Award in Tripoli went to Miss Mary Edith Harnsberger and in bridge to Mrs. Charles Knight.

The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts.

Guests present were: Miss McGurran, her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McGurran, Mrs. Sam McGurran, Mrs. Terry Miers, Mrs. Dan Wolf, Miss Nadine Speiser, Miss Mary Edith Harnsberger, Mrs. Harold Fimple, Mrs. George Scruton, Mrs. George Scruton, Sr., Mrs. Charles Knight, the hostess and her mother.

Those invited but unable to attend were: Mrs. Kay Downs, Mrs. Bob Rose, Miss Margaret Karrison, Mrs. Harry Harnsberger and Mrs. Virginia Rose Moore.

On Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, Miss Earleen Paxton, and Mrs. Joe Emo entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Emo, 1018 South Harrison avenue, honoring Miss LaVerne Kroencke and Miss Mary Ann McGurran, brides-to-be. During the evening, card games were played, and refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Katherine Miller, Helen Evans, Ellen Osborne, Dorothy Shafer, Margaret Swift, Ann Reed, Wilma Wright, Fern Thomas, Maxine Salisbury, Helen Jolly, Lucille Swafford, Bertha Mae Swift, Juanita Lyles, and Margaret McVicker.

The honorees received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. A. N. Baker was hostess to the members of the Green Ridge Garden club at her home in Green Ridge Tuesday afternoon. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. E. J. Sims and Mrs. Charles H. Ward, Jr.

The home was decorated with arrangements of autumn flowers. The topic for the program was "Preparing the Garden for Winter" with Mrs. E. C. Vogelbaugh as the leader. Mrs. Rose Whittall spoke on the subject of "How to Store Vegetables for Winter" and Mrs. F. W. Smithpeter used as her subject, "How to Plant Lily Bulbs" which was followed by a short talk by Mrs. Henry Baslee, "Putting the Garden to Bed for the Winter."

Mrs. Wilford Acker gave an outline of the program for the coming year and Mrs. E. J. Sims and Mrs. Roy Regar sang a duet, "In the Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Eldon Brown on the violin. Refreshments were served at 2:00 o'clock to twenty-five members and four guests, Mrs. L. B. Ream, Aurora, Neb., Mrs. H. H. Ream, Mrs. Eldon Brown and Mrs. H. A. Hite.

Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Victor Ward judged the flower arrangements of which there were twenty-five.

The Sedalia Stephens College club will meet at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, 503 South Park avenue, with Mrs. J. U. Morris as assisting hostess.

The meeting was originally planned for Saturday but the date was changed.

All former students of Stephens College are invited to attend.

Church Activities

The Wesley Fellowship class of the Fifth Street Methodist church had a pot luck supper at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the church basement. More than fifty members and their families attended the meeting.

Leaves and flowers were used as table decorations, carrying out the theme of the autumn season.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hathaway, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Maunders and Miss Margaret Johnson.

Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed at which time games were played.

The Progressive class of the Epworth Methodist church will meet at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Ringen, 605 South Engineer avenue.

Pie Supper, Program At Arator School

The Arator school held a pie supper Friday night, Nov. 1. A large crowd attended and the sum of $128.38 was cleared. Jesse Paul was the auctioneer. The school children presented a program under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Blanche Gilmore, and the music supervisor, Miss Edith Morgan. Those who participated were: George, Ellen and Walter Lacey, Ruth Ann Smith, Cecil and Page, June, Ann and Ernie Curtis, Evelyn Brereton and Omer Cramer.

Goes to St. Louis to Get Artificial Legs

Jerry Trotter, 610 West Sixth street, left for St. Louis today to obtain a pair of artificial limbs. An army veteran, he lost both of his legs as a result of being wounded by the explosion of a mortar shell while fighting near Leipzig, Germany. He plans to be in St. Louis only a day or two.

Please accept this as a grateful acknowledgement of your expression of confidence as evidenced by your votes in the Tuesday election.

DIMMITT HOFFMAN
Judge Circuit Court

I am indeed grateful of the vote of trust and confidence given to me by the voters of the Western District last Tuesday, and I sincerely thank all who supported me.

EDW. CALLIS
Judge County Court Western District

I wish to thank all who voted for me for Judge of the Probate Court. I appreciate your confidence and will strive to give you the service that I have given in the past.

JUDGE J. E. SMITH

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Pettis County for their support and assistance in helping to re-elect me as Collector of Revenue last Tuesday.

High Blood Pressure May Be Harmless

By William A. O'Brien, M.D. Written for NEA Service

High blood pressure may last for years without producing any effect upon the body.

In the early stages, the small arteries are constricted, so that the blood pressure fluctuates; later, these vessels harden, and a more permanent elevation of the pressure results.

In taking blood pressure readings, physicians have learned the various ways and means of getting the lowest reading, which is the real one.

Most nervous, apprehensive individuals become disturbed when their blood pressure reading is taken, and this causes their pressure to go up. The heart may beat rapidly, and they may show other signs of nervousness.

No Sign of Disease

In the average case of high blood pressure, there is no evidence of disease in any organ. In some instances high pressure is secondary to a disease, but this is uncommon.

The average high blood pressure patient is a tense individual. He shows it in his physician appearance, and undoubtedly this is a reflection of how he feels inwardly.

Most patients are too concerned about their blood pressure readings—they fail to realize that there are many fluctuations which are not related to disease.

The systolic pressure (which is read at the end of contraction of the heart) varies from 110 to 150 mm. of mercury; the diastolic pressure is read when the heart is empty, and it varies from 70 to 90 mm. of mercury.

There is a gradual rise of blood pressure in all persons between 40 and 60 years of age; after the 60th year the rise is more rapid.

Average blood pressures must not be confused with normal pressures. The former are obtained by averaging the pressures of many persons, while the latter represent an effort to draw the line between normal and abnormal readings.

Most physicians are optimistic when a middle-aged person shows a slight elevation in blood pressure without other signs of disease. The average case supports such a viewpoint, for few such patients are greatly affected by the extra pressure.

Patients Lack Confidence

Personality studies of patients with high blood pressure show that most of them are ambitious but afraid of not making good. They tend to be shy except when on guard. They are perfectionists and wish to have everything just so.

In some, however, none of these characteristics is noted.

Most patients with high blood pressure feel better when the understanding of their disease and learn to understand themselves.

Their families should also be given an explanation of the difficulty, and their cooperation should be solicited. The patients should not, however, rely too much on others for encouragement; they should strive to be self-reliant.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Finding of clothing, a pair of shoes, suit of underwear, blue colored overshirt and pair of checked pants on the banks of Flat Creek southeast of Sedalia led to a report to officers that someone might have suicided, but investigation failed to reveal such was the case.

L. E. Johnson of Alma, Mo., has purchased an interest in a barber shop here and will remove to Sedalia as soon as he can find a place of residence for himself and family.

J. B. Rickman, R. G. Leaming and F. W. Clark, justices of the peace-elect, will enter on the duties of their offices about the eighteenth of the month. N. H. Rogers, retiring, will resume the practice of law and David Kinsey will spend the winter in Oklahoma.

Engineers L. N. Yunker and J. F. McBrearty and Fireman S. J. Jackson of the M. K. & T., returned yesterday from a ten days' hunting trip in Cedar county. They killed seven wild turkeys and a large number of quail.

Teachers to Attend Convention

The annual Missouri State Teachers convention is being held at the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The Sedalia public schools have been dismissed for the remainder of the week, to enable the teachers to attend. The delegates from Sedalia, who attended a meeting held Wednesday, preceding the convention, are: Heber U. Hunt, Miss Audrey Salzer, Edwin Martin, Mrs. Alma Hausman and Miss Dorothy Jane Brooks.

W. B. A. Meeting

The Women's Benefit Association had its regular meeting Wednesday at the K. of P. hall, at which time it was voted to contribute $5.00 to the Salvation Army for their Thanksgiving dinner.

Young Soviets Hope to Follow Stalin

Master Politicians Sometimes Train, Then Drop Them

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Every time Stalin varies his routine, as he did yesterday by letting Andre Zhdanov occupy the rostrum usually reserved for the premier on the eve of the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, it stirs speculation abroad.

You can hear rumors that he is dead, that he is retiring and that his substitute has been chosen as his successor, that he is en route to the United States to confer with Truman, or that his 180-or-90-odd million non-party subjects are in revolt.

A little later you are likely to hear that he was home wielding a sulfa spray on a sore throat like an ordinary human.

But the appearance of Zhdanov yesterday, talking like most any Moscow radio commentator who is on a "mad" against capitalism, serves to remind that there are two stars in the Soviet sky which seem to be traveling converging orbits around the master's chair. "The Fair-Haired Boy"

Zhdanov has been considered for six years as a fair-haired boy, and because of his position as well as his flesh, has been referred to as the "Goering of the Soviet"—the No. 2 man. Starting at 16 after war service in the czar's army, Zhdanov has been climbing steadily among the Communists until now, at 50, he is a member of the powerful Politburo, secretary of the central executive committee of the party, chairman of the foreign affairs commission where for years he has played a major role in mapping foreign policy, and head of the propaganda bureau. He is national hero as the "Defender of Leningrad," and the 1939-40 war against Finland to secure the strategic position which later kept the Germans out of northern Russia was peculiarly "his" war in planning and organization. He is known as a determined nationalist, looking at every problem strictly from the standpoint of what is to Russia's interest. In this respect his description is almost a carbon copy of Stalin's.

The other star among the generalissimo's younger satellites is Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov, 45, who has just been shifted from the legislative to the executive branch of the government—from the presidium of the Supreme Soviet to be vice-chairman of the Council of Ministers. He, too, served in the Red army after World War I, held increasingly important party organizing jobs, was for some years Stalin's personal secretary, a member of the party's central executive committee and a member of the state committee for defense during the recent war, gaining the order of Lenin for his work on plane production and being elevated to the Politburo. He is credited with being more actively revolutionary than Zhdanov, the type which would be likely to take a greater interest in a revived comintern. Careful observers have described Malenkov as "one of the most dangerous men in Russia" from the standpoint of those who wish to see the Soviet curb its expansionist tendencies.

Inner Workings Not Known
The inner workings of Soviet politics are not for the foreign observer to know. Master politicians like masters in other fields have been known to play their young hopefuls off against each other for their own purposes and then leave them all at the post in the final heat. But if, on that day when he no longer merely a threat for the women who Zhdanov clashes with the horizon-eying Malenkov for the scepter, the fur's going to fly in Russia.

Meeting of War Dads Auxiliary
The War Dads Auxiliary and the Gold Star Mothers, United, will meet Friday night at 8:00 o'clock at the K. of P. hall on East Fifth street.

The Sedalia auxiliary was recently organized with Mrs. D. H. Neiberger as president.

The membership of the American War Dads' auxiliary is limited to mothers, including Gold Star Mothers, who have sons who through marriage or adoption, or who shall be designated as such in writing by a man or woman in the armed forces or who stand in the position of mother, step-mother or mother-in-law of sons or daughters who have served in the armed forces of the United States of America since September, 1940, and to widows of all men who were in the military or naval service of the United States since September, 1940, and who died in line of duty or after honorable discharge if cause of death is service connected.

T. E. O'Donnell Has Retired

T. E. O'Donnell, laborer in the coach shop, retired from service with the Missouri Pacific railroad effective November 1. He began working for the Missouri Pacific at the local shops May 2, 1923 and for the past several years has been working in the upholstery and cabinet shops.

T. E. O'Donnell

At a noon hour meeting last week in the coach shop, Mr. O'Donnell was presented with an order for a hat, a pipe and a pound of smoking tobacco. The presentation was made by Paul Berthouze, pattern and upholstery shop foreman. Mr. Berthouze touched on some of the highlights of Mr. O'Donnell's railroad career.

Mr. O'Donnell was popular with his fellow workers and for a time served on the firemen and oilers' committee at the local shops. He intends to continue to make Sedalia his home.

Talk on Credit Regulations at Luncheon

governors in Washington in 1941 because of the war. The regulation is in two parts, first to curtail the demand for consumer goods because of manufacturing facilities and labor which were needed for defense and later war work and second, it is an instrument of anti-inflation because it effect the control of down payment on articles made to meet the changing conditions.

Consumers credit, the speaker said, follows the ebb and flow of national economy. There are three groups of credit, he said, installment credit, charge account credit and service credit, and then there are single payment loans.

There is a rate of increase in credit, Mr. Koptis stated, in spite of the fact that the heavy durable items are not back and when they do come back the increase will be greater. The installment credit is turbulent, it is the most flexible and is receiving the most attention from the board.

Up to Congress
Regulation W is now before the board of governors, its continuance is in the hands of congress and it is up to congress if there is to be a permanent instrument of control in credit, the speaker said.

Mr. Koptis complimented the Sedalia Credit Association and Mr. Jones on the cooperation in carrying out the program of Regulation W.

Chrysanthemums were also presented to Mrs. Ollie McMullin, the new president and Mrs. George F. Scott, a new member.

Mr. Boul announced the next meeting would be the Christmas party December 13.

Cars Damaged In A Collision
Considerable damage resulted to two cars, one a 1941 Buick sedan and the other a 1937 Plymouth sedan, driven by N. S. Lynch, 509 South Van Brunt avenue, Kansas City, in a collision about 6:45 o'clock Wednesday night. The accident occurred on Highway 50 about two miles west of Dresden.

South Losing People to North and West

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt long ago called the south the nation's No. 1 economic problem. It still is behind the rest of the country.

How much it is behind, although it has shown improvement, is made pretty clear in "Labor in the South," a series of articles in October's monthly labor review a publication of the labor department.

These articles—economic studies on southern income and workers—are not for popular reading. But, for economic studies, they're well and clearly written. And they're important for anyone who wishes to know what is happening in the south to workers, their wages and the kind of jobs they do. Briefly, the articles say this:

South Losing People
1. The South is losing people every year to the North and West. More people leave the South each year than go into it to live.

2. Southern income is behind the rest of the country.

3. Yet the birth rate in the South is greater than elsewhere.

4. With the population growing—but more and better jobs to be found elsewhere—people desert the South.

5. Because there are more and better jobs elsewhere, the people from outside the South are not drawn there to live.

6. For these reasons the South steadily is being drained of people.

Which means: Men and women, trained, educated and raised in the South, go away and other sections of the country get the benefit of their work.

What Figures Show
Here are what some of the figures show:

Between 1920 and 1930 yearly 130,000 more people left the South than went there to settle. This figure dropped to 100,000 during the depression of 1930. One-third of those leaving are Negroes. Negroes don't go there to live.

Came the defense program and the war years. People flooded out of the South because there were more war jobs elsewhere. Between 1940-45 the South suffered a net loss of about 900,000 to the North and West.

What's the answer? Will the migration from the South slow down? Yes, the study, says, if there were large-scale industrialization there. Which means: More industry, more and bigger factories.

Or, the study goes on, a severe depression would keep the Southerners home since they could not find jobs elsewhere.

On outstanding reason for the difference between the income of the South and the rest of the country is this: So much of the South is devoted to farming.

Farming Is Different
And there's a difference between farming there and elsewhere: Farms are smaller, there are fewer farm tools and the work done per man is less. But the study says:

"While per capita income (that is, income if divided equally among all the individuals) in the South is low compared with the average for the country, a definite and encouraging upward trend has been evident in recent years. (This is because, in part, farming has become a little less important and manufacturing a little more important.)"

"Per capita income in the southern states rose from 55 per cent of the national average in 1929 to 69 per cent in 1945. In the 1940-45 period per capita income payments to the civilian population of the United States went this way:

The United States average in 1940 was $573. This rose to $1,158 in 1945.

The southern states average in 1940 was $337. This became $791 in 1945.

All other states average in 1940 was $666. This became $1,299 in 1945.

This study goes through 1945 only. Undoubtedly southern income has declined since then, due to the folding up of so many war jobs.

Jack Loft Hurt In A Collision

Jack Loft, 1218 South Ohio avenue, received minor injuries about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with a tractor-trailer of the Standard Oil Co. on the Main street road just east of the Gasco-Alley junction. He was taken to his home in the McLaughlin ambulance where a doctor gave medical treatment.

Loft, according to the state patrol, was headed west on Main street, driving a 1936 Plymouth sedan, and it collided almost head-on with the tractor driven by George Baker, 1417 South Forty-First Street, Kansas City, Kansas.

The Plymouth front end was demolished, and the tractor-trailer was badly damaged. The Plymouth appeared to have struck the left front bumper of the heavy tractor, and then crashed into the left front part of the trailer. The car then swerved to the right and nosed into a small ditch.

Baker maneuvered the huge tractor and trailer to the left and it straddled a small ditch.

Loft has been charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The case is in the court of Justice of the Peace A. M. Harlan, but time for a hearing has not been set.

Births
Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. William M. Purchase, at the St. Elizabeth hospital in Yakima, Wash., November 1.

Daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Smith, Zillah, Wash., September 16.

Mr. Purchase and Mrs. Smith are brother and sister of Mrs. Orin Chappell, Route 4, Sedalia.

Daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Keeler, 112 South Washington avenue, at 12:42 o'clock this morning at Bethwell hospital. Weight: 7 pounds 11½ ounces.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Green, route 2, Sedalia, a daughter, at the Bethwell hospital at 6:40 o'clock Wednesday evening. The baby weighs eight pounds, fourteen and one-half ounces.

Daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Embury, of Denver, Colo., on Saturday, November 2. The baby weighed eight pounds and has been named Linda Mae. Mr. Embury, who was formerly of Beaman, is the son of L. A. Embury, of 800 East Fifth street. He served three years in the U. S. Army, receiving his discharge December 23, 1945.

Mr. Embury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen, formerly of Beaman, now of Denver. This is their first child.

Seize Beer For Food Tests
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Seizure of two carloads of beer on grounds the brew contains a poisonous preservative was reported yesterday by the local office of the federal food and drug administration.

Theodore Benjamin, chief inspector, said one car was impounded at Clinton, Okla., and another at Emporia, Kas. He added that he expected other seizures within the next few days in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and western Missouri.

Japanese Interested In U. S. Election
TOKYO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Japanese today showed major interest in speculating whether the Republican sweep would mean any change in United States occupation policy, but otherwise showed little interest in the election.

Japanese newspaper editors said U. S. senators were "holding up until further notice" all interpretive stories, but favored all counts of the election were passed without deletion.

Top U. S. censorship officials said they were not aware of such deletions.

Alaska Asks for Shipping Relief
JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Territorial Gov. Ernest Gruening asked President Truman to authorize use of army and navy ships to bring relief supplies to Alaska.

Gruening telegraphed the president yesterday that "for nine weeks, Alaska has been deprived of its regular steamship service owing to a dispute between the maritime unions and the ship operators in Seattle."

Alaska dairymen in a few days must slaughter their milk cows because of lack of feed, Gruening told the president.

Molotov Calling On Truman Today
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—President Truman today congratulated the Russian people on the national anniversary of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, established through the Bolshevik revolution of 1917.

In a message sent to Nikolai Mikhailovich Shvernik, president of Soviet Presidium, the President said:

"The people of the United States join me on the national anniversary of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in expressing to Your Excellency and to the people of the Soviet Union, congratulations and best wishes."

Results May Be Good
ATLANTA, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Governor Ellis Arnall declared today the Republican victory "may have been good for America" because it would force a shakeup in the Democratic party and bring a more liberal leadership which might win the election in 1948.

Election Cut Labor Ranks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Republican election landslide cut heavily into the legislative ranks which organized labor long has looked to for sympathetic consideration of its views.

Defeat of some pro-labor lawmakers, coupled with direct expressions of voters at the ballot boxes, emphasizes the possibility that the new congress may pass measures restricting some of labor's present powers.

South and Arizona approved constitutional amendments to outlaw the closed shop. In Massachusetts, a referendum endorsed a proposal to require that unions make public their finances.

The election took from the senate such staunch supporters of labor as Democratic Senators James M. Tunnell, of Delaware, Joseph F. Murphy, of Pennsylvania, Hugh B. Mitchell, of Washington and James W. Huffman, of Ohio.

Kansas Still Has Problem
TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—(AP)—To repeal, or not to repeal the state's 66-year-old prohibitory liquor laws is still the unanswered question in dry Kansas.

Tuesday's election, in which Republican Frank Carlson defeated Democrat Harry H. Woodring for governor, left the problem unsettled.

Woodring ran on a party platform calling for outright repeal of liquor laws and for establishment of state-owned and operated liquor stores, with county operation. Had he been elected, he still would have had to ask the state legislature to repeal the "bone dry" law and approve a constitutional amendment for submission to a vote of the people.

While a personal dry, Carlson is committed to his party's platform, which contained a plank recommending that the 1947 legislature submit a constitutional amendment to the people at the November, 1948, general election.

Coal Parleys Continue
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The administration and the United Mine Workers, both well aware of strong republican support for legislative strike curbs, pitched into the critical coal situation anew today.

The top questions were:

(1) Would the GOP election victory change the government's plans for coping with the implied strike threat by 400,000 miners?

(2) Would it make John L. Lewis think twice before calling city.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Delaney, who has returned to her home after spending several days here.

R. J. Nichols and W. J. Hall, Jefferson City Missouri-Pacific engineers, are here today to attend the funeral of S. E. Bushey, held this afternoon.

No Law For Vice Patrol
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—(AP)—City Solicitor William J. Weinman today asserted city council does not have authority under existing legal ordinances to permit 12 Protestant pastors to form a "sledgehammer vice patrol" to serve independent of police officials.

St. Aloysius Club Plans Activities
Members of St. Aloysius club met in the K. of C. hall Wednesday night, Miss Kathryn Turner presiding. There was a general discussion of indoor sports to be taken up later, and a committee was appointed to arrange for a dance on November 26. Its members are Billy Eschbacher, Barney Taylor, Ralph Young, Jean Friedebach, Betty Geiser and Mary Smasal.

The second meeting in November has been cancelled. The next meeting, therefore, will be on December 4.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. William Bergstadt
Mrs. William Bergstadt, a sister of Mrs. Flora Washburne, 923 West Fourth street and W. D. Strader, custodian at the State Fair grounds, died at her home in Higginsville Wednesday. She had been ill for some time with dropsy.

Surviving are her husband, four sons and three daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Strader and Mrs. Washburne will go to Higginsville this noon to attend the funeral, which will be held Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Washburne, who has been visiting her son, Frank Washburne and family in Westchester, Conn., was called home because of her sister's condition, but did not arrive until after her death.

Joseph R. Baldwin
Joseph Robert Baldwin, 87, former Sedalia, died at his home, one and one-half miles north of McKirk, last October 24. He had been in poor health for several years. Funeral services were conducted at the Williams Funeral home in California, and interment was in Crown Hill cemetery, this city, beside the grave of his first wife.

Mr. Baldwin was born north of McKirk, August 31, 1859, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hopewell Baldwin.

He was married twice. His first wife was Miss Eliza Bruce, to whom he was married in 1887.

Following her death he was married in 1916 to Miss Winnie Fletcher of Centertown, who survives. Also surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Oscar Simms, of Booneville. A son, Emory Baldwin, preceded his father in death. Mr. Baldwin was the last survivor of his family of six brothers and three sisters.

Mr. Baldwin resided in Sedalia several years and during the Governor Elliott Major administration he served as chief of police at the State Fair grounds. As a young man he was a member of the Kansas City Police department for several years, after which he served as a guard at the state penitentiary and was a deputy beer inspector in the Lon V. Stephens administration.

Being an excellent judge of fine horses he bought and sold them to buyers at St. Louis and other places. He followed this until his retirement about 25 years ago.

Benjamin F. Marshall
Benjamin Franklin Marshall, a retired farmer 84 years old, died at 2:15 Thursday morning at his home in Knob Noster. He had been in ill health for about two years.

Mr. Franklin was born April 1, 1862, on a farm nine miles north of Knob Noster, the son of Richard and Rebecca Marshall. On May 10, 1885, he was married to Nellie Grant Parker, of one mile south of Knob Noster, who preceded him in death October 25, 1937.

Three children were born to this union, one of whom survives, Glen Richard Marshall, Los Angeles, Cal. A daughter, Eula Mayfair Marshall, died July 10, 1913, and a son, George Parker Marshall, died December 25, 1917.

The body is at the Sauls funeral home in Knob Noster pending funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Salina A. Kerstetter
Mrs. Selina Almira Kerstetter, pioneer resident of Green Ridge, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. C. Tracy, Beaver, Okla., Wednesday.

Mrs. Kerstetter was born September 27, 1868, at Green Ridge, the daughter of John R. and Mary Jane Tracy. She was married to D. J. Kerstetter.

She is survived by one son, John R. Kerstetter, Dayton, O.; two sisters, Mrs. F. C. Tracy and Miss Maude O. Thomas, and one brother, W. H. Thomas, all of whom are of Beaver, Okla.

The body will be brought to Green Ridge and funeral arrangements are pending.

S. E. Bushey Service
Funeral services for Samuel Ellsworth Bushey, 2207 South Kentucky avenue, who died Monday night at the Missouri Pacific hospital, were held at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon at the Fifth Street Methodist church. The Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor of the church, officiated.

Palbearers were L. E. Giffin, George Esser, Chris Koch, of Jefferson City; E. W. Kettleson and Finis Nichols.

Mrs. A. H. Lueninghoener and Mrs. George Lovemack sang "Have Thine Own Way" and "Shadows," and as a solo Mrs. Lueninghoener sang, "Oh, Dry Those Tears." Mrs. Mae Moser was the accompanist.

The body is at the Gillespie funeral home and will be taken Friday morning at 8:15 o'clock to Sherman, Texas, where burial will be made in the West Hill cemetery. Graveside services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the Knights Templar in charge.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Ann Harpstrite
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Harpstrite, who died at Decatur, Illinois, Wednesday morning, will be held at St. Patrick's church at Spring Fork at 9:00 o'clock Friday morning.

The Rev. Father Ingoldsby will officiate.

Crowds Attend Revival Meet

The meeting at the First Baptist church continues to grow in interest. Though rain interfered somewhat with the service on Wednesday, there was a good crowd present on Wednesday evening, with three additions to the church. The Women's Missionary Society today is sponsoring the afternoon service at 2:30. At the Friday evening hour, a large number of families with their children are expected.

Mrs. Henslee with her solo work and leadership of the congregational singing, and Dr. Moncrief's preaching are a source of inspiration. The St. Louis message Wednesday evening centered around the theme, "When the Traffic Stopped for a Baptism." He said: "The story of the conversion of the man from Ethiopia and his baptism by Philip on the roadside, is one of those unusual and interesting stories of the New Testament which make it a book as interesting as any modern fiction."

$1000 Award to St. Louis Educator
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—(P)—In recognition of his "distinguished service as scientist, philosopher, humanitarian and world citizen," the St. Louis award for 1946 was presented last night at Dr. Arthur H. Compton, chancellor of Washington university.

Boosters Meet At Local Shops Tuesday Noon

The Sedalia Booster Club held its regular monthly business meeting in the boiler shop during the noon hour last Tuesday, at the local Missouri Pacific shops, with F. G. Rose, Chief Booster, presiding.

Rose, in a brief talk, mentioned the coal situation throughout the country and urged everyone to buy their coal now. He also brought to the attention of the employees the necessity of securing business for the railroad, both passenger and freight. "We are working a full force now and we want to keep it this way, but unless we all work together as a unit and secure more business and keep what we have, there undoubtedly will be a cut in force," said Rose.

J. F. Downs, general passenger and traffic agent at Sedalia, was presented and responded with an interesting talk concerning the equipment, service rendered and statistics on various items on the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Downs said the Missouri Pacific railroad is made up of 10,221 miles of main lines, serves 3,000 cities and towns in 11 states of which there are approximately 32 million people, nearly one-fourth of the population of the United States. "We have a vast area to serve the public in transportation," said Mr. Downs.

"We have had a program for several years for smoother riding and thousands of dollars is spent every year on the road bed, equipment, etc.," said Mr. Downs. He said plans are under way to change the 112-pound rail, now being used, to 130 pounds instead.

Mr. Downs pointed out that there were 115 scheduled passenger trains, 149 red ball freight trains and 85 local trains each day and in addition approximately 50 extra trains per day. This means approximately 400 trains moving every 24 hours.

In addition there were approximately 258 truck and bus units covering 8,500 miles and two million pounds of LCL freight was handled every day.

Continuing, Mr. Downs stated that over 40,000 employees on the railroad receive a monthly income of 11 million dollars. He further said that more freight cars had been ordered and thousands of cars were being repaired and put back into service in the various shops on the system. He gave statistics on this equipment.

Has Research Bureau
Mr. Downs called attention that the Missouri Pacific railroad was the first railroad to organize what is known as the Research Bureau composed of outstanding railroad men. Their purpose is to study old methods and seek new methods to better the conditions on the railroad.

A brief sketch on the class of equipment used on the railroad at the present time, as well as equipment to be purchased in the future, was given.

C. R. Kilbury, superintendent of shops, closed the meeting with a talk on the expenditures of the local shops for labor and material. He spoke of the different shops on the system and work being done in these shops.

In closing, Mr. Kilbury urged everyone to keep up the good work on safety and not to get hurt. He expressed his appreciation to Mr. Downs for his talk and asked the employees to secure more business and keep everyone on the job.

Grant Arnold Has Retired

Grant E. "Doc" Arnold, machinist, retired from service with the Missouri Pacific railroad effective November 1st. He has been employed at the local shops in Sedalia since May 7, 1923, and also was with the Kansas City Southern railroad in Pittsburg, Kas., for a few years. He started his railroad career with the Southern Pacific in the state of California.

Mr. Arnold was popular with his fellow workers and for several years served on the shop committee representing the machinists' craft.

During the noon hour last Thursday a special meeting was held in the machine shop and Mr. Arnold was presented with an all leather traveling bag. The presentation was made by L. C. Bryson, local chairman of the machinists, who made an appropriate talk, touching some of the highlights of Mr. Arnold's railroad career.

M. J. Smith, general erecting foreman, made a short talk in behalf of Mr. Arnold. Mr. Arnold will spend the winter in Arizona and later may reside in the state of California.

William Martin, general locomotive inspector for the Missouri Pacific, was at the shops this week.

Notre Dame And Army Have Injuries

Army Hopes on Full Time Team: Irish
On Sprained Ankle

By Sid Feder
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 7.—(P)—All of Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the Army after two long years of waiting—all of the long labor the Irish put in for a solid year of postwar reconstruction looking to this very weekend—everything rested today on one sprained ankle.

This was the ailing right ankle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '43.

Lujack Not So Hot
Lujack is so hot and so vital in the signal calling, forward passing and, especially, the defensive machinery, that Notre Dame coach Frank Leahy says he's better than his predecessor, Angelo Bertelli. And "Bert" you remember, was so good in his day they just about wrote songs and named their children after him around here.

Johnny hurt his ankle yesterday as the final full dress drill

"Signaling from the bench? Me?"

for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was winding up on Cartier Field, and only a couple of hours after team mates elected him and Halfback Gerry Cowhig as the Army game co-captains.

Biting Finger Nails
Today all hands sweated out with finger nail biting anxiety the final word from Dr. Joseph Caton, the school physician, as to whether the 21 year old ace would be aboard the train with the 34-man squad when it heads east at 4 p. m. (CST).

Johnny must be ready to roll full speed Saturday, or the best Notre Dame team in three years—the outfit even the assistant coaches believe might whip Army by 20 points to alone for the 59 and 48 pointbeatings of 1944 and 1945—hasn't more than a prayer.

It is on defense where Lujack is as necessary as a parachute to a jumping flier—and especially in the secret defensive setups Leahy and his brain trusters have been working on to keep Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis from running the Irish right out of the New York Yankee stadium.

74,000 to See Game
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(P)—It will be a team of 60-minute football players against an all-star squad of players who can be shuttled in and out of a game at the coaches' pleasure when Army meets Notre Dame before 74,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium Saturday.

That's the impression you get from talking to Earl (Red) Blaik, Army coach, and the figures for Army's games so far bear it out.

Given good, cool weather that won't take too much out of his athletes, Blaik obviously expects his starting eleven to go through most of the game against Notre Dame just as it did against Oklahoma, Michigan and Duke.

60-Minute Ball Players
"I have seen Army teams play 60-minute ball and win," says Blaik's only comment when asked how long he expected to keep his starting lineup on the field against Notre Dame.

When Blaik gives out his three-deep lineup, the difference between the first and second teams becomes even more apparent.

"I wouldn't say Army has two top teams this year," says the Army coach, whose calmness belies his red tatch. "Notre Dame has four top backfields and two top lines, plus a few other linemen who are equally good."

It is obvious from Blaik's conversation, which returns constantly to the quality and numbers of Notre Dame personnel, that he figures the game as a team vs. squad affair. He even goes back to 1944, when Army won by a lopsided score but was just about worn out at the finish, to show how the Irish may "run us into the ground." Nevertheless, he seems to think his boys will do well enough if they can play the full time.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 7.—(P)—Although you can't pen it down to any definite words, you get the idea up here that Earl (Red) Blaik, the Army coach, is more than a trifle annoyed at the bearish tactics adopted by his rival, Frank Leahy, in leading up to Saturday's tussle at Yankee Stadium.

Leahy flatly predicted an Army victory the other day, but no matter how often he's "Red" Red won't give out a forecast. "Red isn't a guy to weep unnecessarily, nor is he given to over-enthusiasm. In fact, you might think he's a cold fish until you realize that he's a man who takes football as a serious business and who calculates the possibilities of victory and defeat just as a business man might calculate profits and losses. But when it comes to predicting, Blaik indicated rather plainly yesterday that his Army squad wouldn't take kindly to tears shed for publicity purposes. "It's a team of great character and considerable pride," he added. "They wouldn't like it if I said they'd lose."

Math Lesson
Since all army men must be mathematics experts, the Cadets shouldn't have too much trouble figuring out defense Saturday. "Our team probably has seen more defenses than any school in the country," says Blaik. "We have faced the four-four, and five, six and seven-man lines." The system, apparently, is first count them and then knock 'em down.

West Point and Points West
Army already is looking ahead to next season when the last remnants of the 1944 and 1945 championship teams will have departed. Bobby Stuart, probably the best running back when Glenn Davis won't be used this season because of the eligibility question. The same goes for other promising newcomers, including Russ Dobeletstein, whose brother moved from Tennessee to the pro Giants. "Dobeletstein didn't make the first team so we didn't want to take up a year's eligibility as a sub," Blaik explains. "Latest NCAA rules show Notre Dame is first in total offense and in rushing but no Irish player is among the first 20 individuals in their list."

Clearing the Hurd
Election day holdovers: Republican finished third at Jamaica but drew a note in the chart that he ran well; Democrat was a standout in jumping events at the National Horse Show and Dewey went in at tackle for Harvard.

The antlers of all deer, elk, and even the giant moose are manufactured and discarded each year.

Hoople Confounds Carping Souls By Recalling Feats of Figuring

By Major Amos B. Hoople
Former Channel Swimmer
Following a recent Saturday when it was claimed that most of the games turned out different from the result I prognosticated, I received several written requests for my seasonal percentage. How! People can be so humorous sometimes!

I am not one given to holding postmortems or inquests about cold results. Egad! Has the spirit of good, clean fun vanished from this mortal coil?

Can it be possible these carping souls are questioning my prestige? Well, let me disperse their rebellious forces with just a word. It was Hoople (I mean it was me in person) who selected the Cardinals to win the pennant during the late season, and it was the same man who picked the Red Sox to garner the gon-falon.

Up to now I have said little or nothing about this feat of forecasting. I am not a man to shout from the housetops. Let the chips fall where they may.

But don't you think you ought to be gently reminded of this astounding bit of cold, unemotional figuring?

Have patience and loyalty, gentle readers and peruse the menu dished up for you this weekend.

Notre Dame Now the Favorite Over Army

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(P)—For the first time since Army began building up its 25-game winning streak nearly three years ago, the cadets find themselves listed as underdogs in the betting line. Notre Dame today was established as a one-half point favorite to end the West Pointers' long chain of victories.

The odds may undergo a radical change before now and the 1:30 p. m. (EST) game time in Yankee Stadium Saturday while the mathematics men ponder the seriousness of injuries to Notre Dame's crack backs, Johnny Lujack and Floyd Simmons.

If both these stars are declared out, it wouldn't be surprising to see Army rated the 8 to 5 choice—the odds by which it was favored in preliminary wagering two weeks ago.

Other odds include: Oklahoma 14, over Kansas, Rice 13½, over Arkansas; Tulsa 14, over Oklahoma A. & M.

Ancient Bison Herd

Flint points and bones, uncovered deep in the earth in New Mexico, indicate to scientists that an ancient and now extinct race of bison was hunted by man on this continent at least 10,000 years, and perhaps as long ago as 25,000 years.

MILK MIXTURE FOR STOMACH ULCERS

A recent medical discovery now used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused by excess acid. It is a harmless preparation, yet so effective in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately.
Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion, heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of LITRIN from their druggist. LITRIN contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

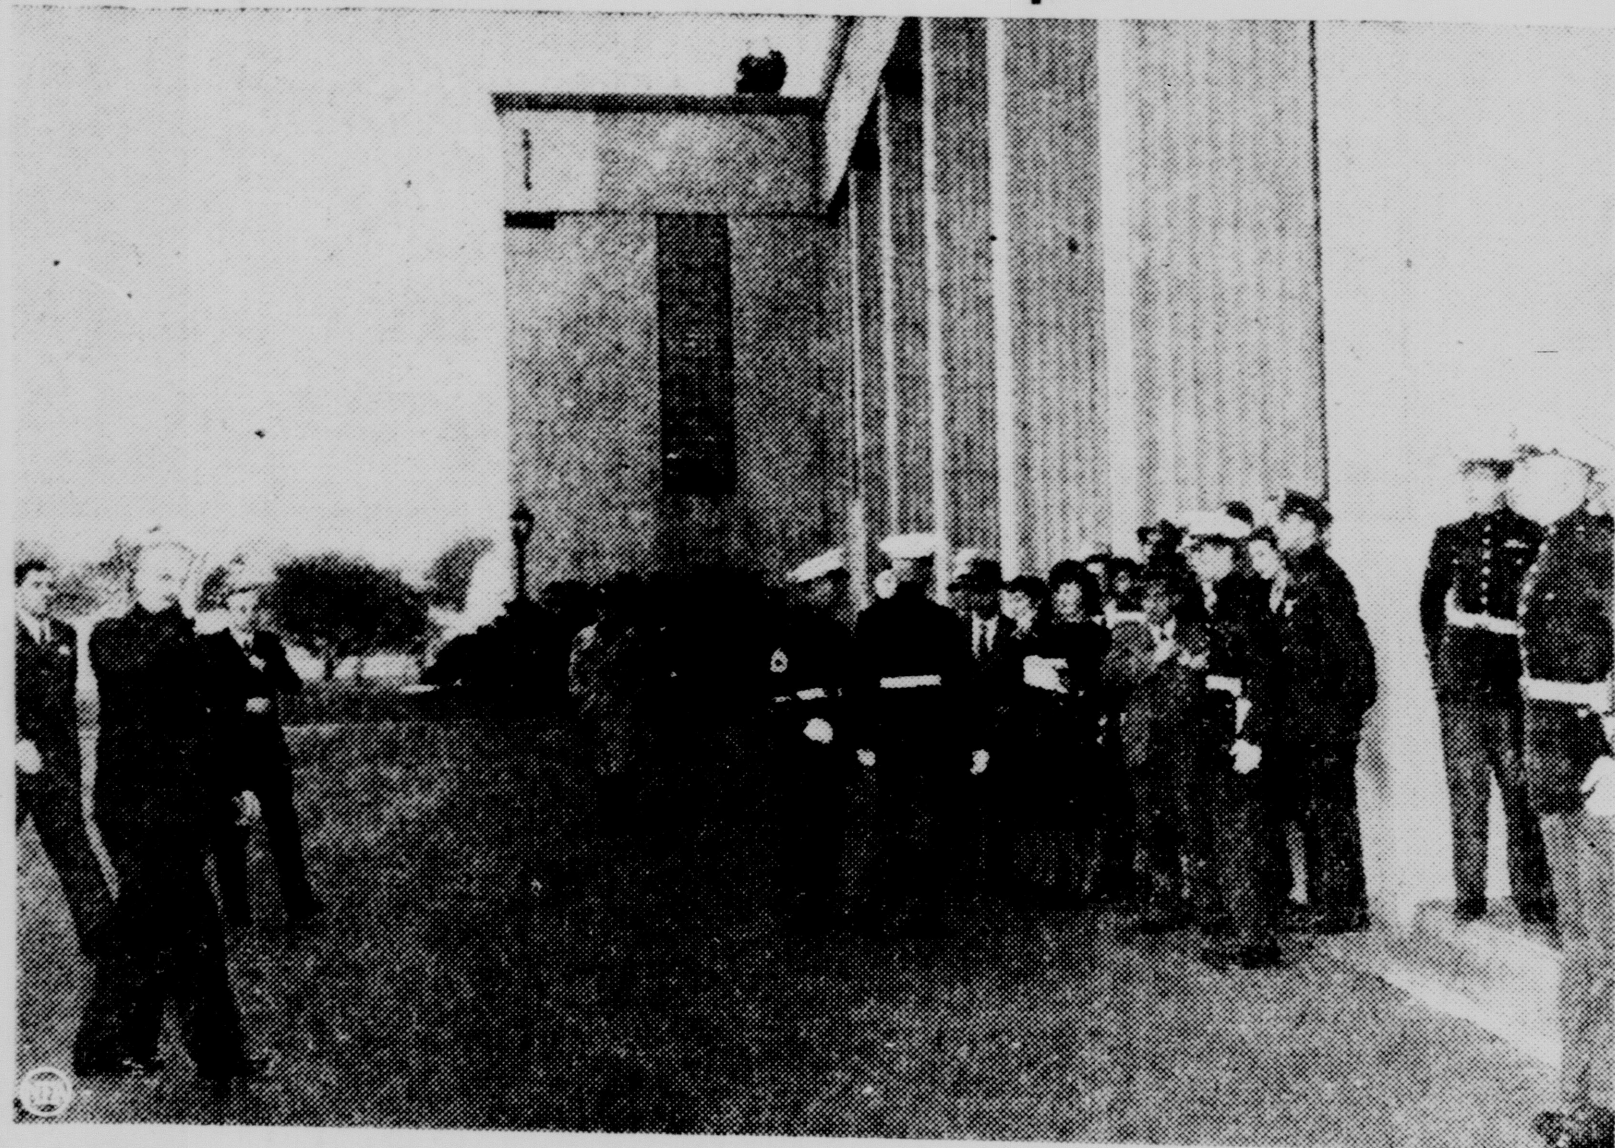

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get bawky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm, fresh, full of hollowness. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

UN's Human Curtain

Cops, Marines and Special Guards Fence in the New World's Capitol

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent
FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y. (NEA)—It is easier to get from Pennsylvania avenue into the office wing of the White House than it is to enter the capitol of the United Nations.

There were four different varieties of guards on the job when President Truman was here to welcome the UN. After the President returned to Washington, accompanied by his Secret Service detail, the delegates were left with only New York City cops, UN uniformed guards and dress-uniformed Marines to protect them from some undisclosed but presumably horrible fate.

After he learns his way around, a correspondent can hope to get to the working press quarters by showing his credentials only three times. Of course, if he wants to interview or get information from a UN delegate, he may use it several more times before, in many instances, he finds that he cannot do what he wanted to do. Even during the war, it was possible for a reporter to get into the White House press room with only one display of his credentials.

Elmer Davis, internationally known radio commentator who headed the Office of War Information during the war, fared no better than the merest cub when he tried to get in. It took him most of half an hour. Another newsman, who has covered Security Council meetings from their first day in this country, not only took half an hour to get in but almost as long to find a way through which the guards would permit him to leave the building.

The famous sculptor Jo Davidson, arriving as the guest of an assistant to Secretary-General Trygve Lie, was turned away. The Marine guard recognized him, but somebody had neglected to send through his pass. The Marine was sorry—but—

After trying all the other gates he could find, Davidson drove to the Flushing Meadows police station. A desk sergeant telephoned the United Nations, and was told that a pass would be at the gate by the time Davidson could get back. It wasn't. Eventually Davidson gave up and went home.

Robert Kenny of the UN press division was sent post haste, in an official car, from the secretariat offices at Lake Success with a big bundle of official translations of President Paul-Henri Spaak's opening address. The session could not properly begin until each delegate had one of the translations on his desk.

Kenny had credentials of which one of his associates said: "He is supposed to be able to go up on the dias, tap Trygve Lie on the shoulder, and interrupt him in the middle of an oration, if he thinks it necessary."

But these credentials couldn't get his UN car through the official gates. While delegates and distinguished guests twisted, turned, wondered and waited, Kenny was explaining his status, describing the delay he was causing, and begging to be let in. At last he won. The guard permitted him to leave his car at the gate and limp, on a leg injured in World War II, a mile to the building with his heavy bundle of documents.

A news service teletype operator spent $3.85 on taxi fare and waiting time driving from gate to gate before he persuaded a guard to recognize his credentials—which were in perfect order—and let him enter and go to work.

Bryan Urquhart, aide to Secretary-General Lie, was barred by a guard from the delegate's lounge. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, vice foreign minister and second man in the Soviet delegation, was kept out of the lounge by a guard's wide-spread arms until a secretariat member intervened.

The general public, without passes but hoping to share in the 250 seats supposedly available for their use, fared even worse. That may be one reason why, after the opening day when the President was there, the public stayed away in droves.

NEW TREATMENT CHASES PIN-WORMS

Millions have suffered in silence with the misery of Pin-Worms—but need suffer no longer! Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

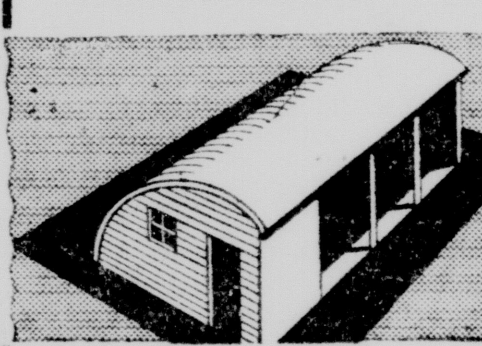

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms and relieve that tormenting rectal itch. So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, get your drugist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms! FREE! Amazing metal polishing cloth. World's like magic! Polishes silver by just rubbing. Good-will gift: yours for the asking. This month only. Clip this ad and send with name and address to Dr. D. Jayne & Son, 2 Vine St., Phila. 6, Pa., Dept. L-1063

LaMonte WSCS Has Election

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church of LaMonte held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scott, November 1. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Ira Williams. Rev. Wesley Hampton gave the opening prayer. At the noon hour a lunch was served. In the afternoon the following new officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Ira Williams, president; Mrs. R. B. Burke, treasurer; Mrs. L. W. Patton, secretary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Guy Ballew; secretary missionary education, Rev. Wesley Hampton, assisted by Mrs. Lucille Reavis; secretary local work, Mrs. Lloyd Mahin; superintendent of supplies, Mrs. C. E. DeHaven; superintendent of student work, Mrs. P. S. Craig; spiritual life, Mrs. J. E. Noland; secretary of children's work, Mrs. Craig Temple; secretary of youth work, Mrs. Munsey; sup't. of membership, Mrs. Ruth Lehmer; status of woman, Mrs. Mothershead; recording secretary, Mrs. C. R. Lind.

The Spiritual Life, was given by Mrs. Nadia Reavis, topic, "The Master Weaver is Working." Mrs. Munsey Weaver led the devotion. Mrs. Craig Temple was the leader of the discussion, "Working Together," assisted by Mrs. P. S. Craig, Mrs. Nadia Reavis, and Mrs. Lloyd Mahin. Mrs. Mothershead reviewed a booklet, "The Church's Ministry to the Family."

Mrs. Hannah Hall, of Florence, was a guest. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ira Williams, December 13.

Psychiatrist Advises How to Rid Selves of Fear

By Alton L. Blakeslee
AP Newsfeature Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP)—A kind of amateur dramatics, full of surprises, is one thing that the human atom can do by himself against the threat of atomic war, says a prominent psychiatrist.

It is one of the answers given to this tough question: Is there anything—besides supporting the United Nations and peace efforts—that the lone individual can do in this age of atom bombs and terrible poisons and fear of war? The acting is called psychodrama, and is an answer suggested by Dr. J. L. Moreno, director of the Beacon Hill, N. Y., sanatorium. It has been used successfully by trained psychologists to salvage marriages, to train spies, and help mental patients recover health. The players solve their problems by acting them out.

Can Train Selves
Individuals can play somewhat the same kind of drama to lessen the chances of atomic war, or to train themselves to meet stunning emergencies better if war suddenly came, Dr. Moreno says. Psychodrama can be played in the home, office or neighborhood, and needs no script or props, only some imagination, he explained. It is spontaneous. By agreement with other participants, you play the roll of your wife, husband, child, boss or employee to gain a better understanding of the other person and of yourself, to appreciate the other's attitudes.

Such homespun acting, Dr. Moreno says, would be a starter toward preventing war by reducing the friction, fears, and "small wars" among humans, thus lessening the tensions and hostilities underlying wholesale shooting war.

Play The Part
By suddenly imagining emergencies—such as a fire or other catastrophe—people can train themselves to react more quickly and intelligently if an atom bomb should explode someday without warning. People usually are stupefied by emergencies, but psychodrama has been used to train spontaneous intelligence, he declares.

One Long Island resident made up his own answer to the atom bomb. He moved to Montana with the declaration that "I thought his family would be safer there. But there aren't enough farms or caves to go around for everyone. In fact, a census official in Wisconsin says fear of atomic warfare may become a factor in stopping the historic population drift from farm to city."

Dr. Charles L. Vaughn of the Psychological Corporation suggests that the individual learn the facts about A-bombs and poisons in order to prevent fear of the unknown from interfering with intelligent, effective action to meet the threat.

The atom bomb and new poisons are real and terrible dangers, but there may be harm either in complacently ignoring them or in magnifying the dangers.

Fear the Unknown
For example, an atom bomb won't set off a chain reaction that would destroy the world. In Japan, the bomb killed within a mile and a quarter radius, only 1.8 per cent of deaths occurred beyond that radius. Shelters of various sorts can be set up, and a different construction of cities—at enormous expense and difficulty—would afford some protection.

As for poisons, the rub there is that no one has yet suggested a reasonable way of getting them to or on people on a huge scale. An ounce of every person in the United States and Canada. But there is no method yet of spreading it to all of them.

"Fear is fear of the unknown, and fear leads to disorganized behavior," Dr. Vaughn points out. "As people become better acquainted with the facts of the case, fear tends to diminish and they are better capable of intelligent action."

Work Against Common Good
Dr. Goodwin Watson, professor of education at Teacher's College, Columbia university, urges that man convert his concern to save himself and his family into a definite collective effort.

The black market, he says, is an example of how people through selfishness work against the common good. There is an educational problem in teaching people to act and think in terms of the larger good. There is danger in refusal to think about bad ideas and bad things, and not to take steps until it is too late.

Dr. Moreno believes that the "fight against the atom bomb as a destructive weapon starts in your own home, factory, office or neighborhood. If the atom bomb can be 'domesticated,' it can be a great asset."

"The atom bomb is a symbol that our human society is sick, just like some mental patient. It is a dangerous threat because we cannot control the growth of hostility in human relations. We must reduce fears, hostility, jealousy and greed, and increase solidarity, fair play and community feeling. Using psychodrama is one way."

Study Reactions
"Some Sunday at dinner, for example, let your son sit in your chair. You pretend you are him, that he is you. He will mimic you, showing you how you affect him, and why he reacts as he does. Both of you will learn a lot about each other, and it will be fun. The same role-trading can be done by husband and wife, by neighbors, by grocery clerk and manager." Psychodrama, originated by Dr. Moreno 25 years ago in Vienna, is being used in a number of mental hospitals and being employed extensively by the army and navy in treating veterans. A marriage clinic found it successful. The Office of Strategic Services used it also, Dr. Moreno said, to train spies to become entirely new men, to break away from their old habits.

As an atom bomb defense, psychodrama "would not be a panacea nor make people saints, but it is one practical thing the individual can do about the danger of another horrible war."

"Science is truly international. Psychodrama already has been adopted by the British army and navy. If psychodrama solved group conflicts in one country and

Romantic At-Home Clothes Recall Troubador Style

Reminiscent of medieval styles, the rose-red crepe hostess gown, left, typifies the modern trend towards lavish and alluring at-home clothes. A gold-trimmed belt confines front fullness but in back, fabric falls softly from the yoke. Teaming luxury and comfort, right, the pink and black striped surah tunic coat with braid frog fasteners tops simply cut black trousers.

The Public Utility Companies of Missouri

The public utility companies of Missouri are also proud of the part they have played in developing Missouri and helping to make it a great state... and proud, too, of the fact that the services they provide have helped to develop Missouri industry... made work around the farm and home easier... brought more leisure to Missouri families, and, added to their pleasure and convenience. It is important, too, to remember that this service comes to you at a lower cost than ever before in history—a development which has been made possible by sound, efficient management on the part of the various investor-owned, tax-paying electric, gas and water utilities throughout the state plus the skill and experience of more than 20,000 of your friends and neighbors—the utility employees who are on the job day and night to see that you get the finest possible service, at the lowest possible cost.

Quaker Oats Wins "Tastes Best" Vote! In Coast-to-Coast Poll

Read How Americans Voted!

If you want to please the whole family tomorrow—give them the cereal Americans vote best-tasting! This all-American favorite is Quaker Oats—unmatched by any other cereal in downright goodness.

Americans have just said so—for Quaker Oats has just won the "tastes best" vote in a completely independent national breakfast poll! More people named Quaker Oats "best-tasting" than named any other cereal.

Survey workers questioned families, city folks, farmers, engineers, teachers—people from 8 to 80 in every walk of life. And Quaker Oats won over all other cereals—wheat, corn, rice, oats or part-oats, hot or cold!

Important Health News!

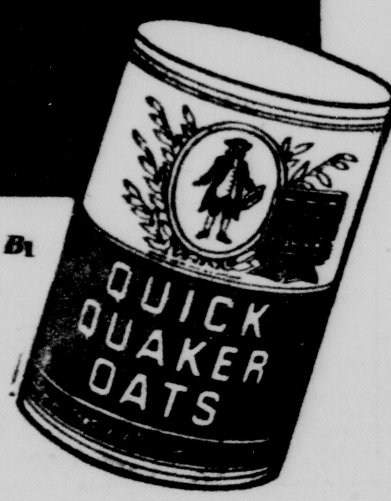

Just think how lucky this is for Americans! For real authorities agree—no other natural cereal matches hot, whole-grain oatmeal in great outstanding key elements* for thriving growth, sturdy stamina, sparkling energy!

Tomorrow, every day—give your family the one-and-only cereal that adds a great bonus of healthful benefits to the flavor America votes best! Serve delicious Quaker Oats!

Lovely Powers Girl Agrees:
"Best For You, Too!"

"You can't hide fatigue from a camera!" says Margaret Bennett, lovely Powers girl. "I knew Quaker Oats would help me through a busy schedule when I learned hot oatmeal is best natural cereal in key energy elements!" All busy women can benefit from Margaret's fatigue-fighting advice. Enjoy delicious Quaker Oats daily!

Decorative Wallpapers Can Brighten Furniture

By Kay Sherwood
NEA Staff Writer

Colorful new wallpaper, freed by smart decorators from its role commitment to walls, is enlarging its repertoire to include coverings for rugs, floors, furniture pick-me-ups and distinctive linings for cabinets.

Able to dramatize an entire room if used to line bookcases or cabinets that house what-nots or china and crystal collections are Chinese Chippendale papers splashed with red and gold and other patterns which stimulate well designed murals.

To line a cabinet or bookcase, measure sides, back and shelves to determine the yardage required, then armed with the rolls needed, cut paper to fit. Place strips so that pattern motifs jibe correctly and glue down with regular wallpaper paste. For a final eye-catching touch, you can line cabinet drawers to match.

Take that room which needs all-out refurbishing from the bed to the wastepaper basket. What will do the trick with little strain on a budget are motifs cut from boldly patterned paper, decal-fashion, and used as professional decorators do to smarten up tables, headboards, lampshades, et al. A room that has been freshly repapered with a floral pattern can go rugless indefinitely if matching cut-out motifs are clustered to simulate scatter rugs, garlands or are casually strewn on the floor. Cut-outs will cling like the proverbial paper on the wall to painted, varnished or linoleum-covered floors if the surface gloss is grazed off with steel wool before the motif is pasted down.

The trick of application is to smooth the paper cut-out lightly, after it is laid, to force out all air bubbles. Weight down the decoration until paste dries, and then apply a coat of wallpaper sizing which helps to seal it to the floor. To make your paper motif resistant to wear and tear, put at least two coats of clear varnish over the design, letting the first one dry before applying the second.

Sheets of wallpaper designed to masquerade as marble or wood will aid the camouflage of battered old tables. To convert a scarred refugee from the attic into an expensive looking "marble" topped table, scrape top down to bare wood and sandpaper it smooth. Cut paper accurately to fit table top dimensions. Paste in place. When dry you can decorate with flowers cut from another paper. Waterproof entire surface by applying two coats of wallpaper wax. Wallpaper borders can be used to frame doors or windows, to ornament a cornice or to outline a fireplace. After repapering a closet, left-over scraps can be put to good use as brighteners for the tops of hat, shoe and closet boxes.

Marble top on the table above is cut from a sheet of green and black marbled wallpaper. Magnolia appliques are also made of wallpaper designs.

Roses cut from paper patterned like that on the wall are pasted on this bedroom floor in the center of white squares. Alternating squares are green.

Spaghetti Dishes for Meat-Shy Meals

On those days when the meat counter is bare as a leafless tree in bleak November, nutrition-conscious homemakers turn to spaghetti as the basis of a protein-rich main dish, meat or no meat. Thanks to the nation-wide emphasis on healthful eating during war years, homemakers know that cheese, milk and eggs have the same excellent quality of body-building protein that meat has. Spaghetti made from durum wheat makes an excellent background for these concentrated foods and adds a bonus of good protein of its own. The bland taste of spaghetti makes it a happy-go-lucky partner for a variety of foods that are dominant in flavor, be it vegetable or high protein food. Once spaghetti is decided upon as the basis of a main dish, the ideas for what-to-put-with-it grow in size like a rolling snowball.

Spaghetti, then, adds food value while extending expensive, scarce, highly-flavored foods. It is easily stored, easily prepared, and easy on the food budget, as it is one of the thriftest of energy foods for cold-sharpened appetites. Spaghetti Stuffed Peppers and Savory Spaghetti Loaf are two valuable recipes for flavorful main dishes on meat-shy days.

Spaghetti Stuffed Peppers
One teaspoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 1 1/2 cups medium cheese sauce, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 4 ounces long spaghetti, 4 medium sized green peppers, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 2 diced hard-cooked eggs.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to actively boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti and continue boiling until spaghetti is tender (about 12 minutes). Drain and rinse spaghetti. While spaghetti is cooking, cut thin slices from end of peppers. Remove seeds, wash and parboil peppers in salted water 5 minutes. Combine cheese sauce, mustard, pimiento and eggs. Fold spaghetti into cheese sauce mixture. Fill peppers with mixture. Bake in moderate oven (300° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

Savory Spaghetti Loaf

One teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 3 quarts boiling water, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 4 ounces spaghetti, 1/2 cup bread cubes, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup grated American cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/4 cups condensed vegetable soup.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to actively boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti and continue boiling until spaghetti is tender (about 12 minutes). Combine egg, milk, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, bread cubes, onion, cheese and vegetable soup. Fold in spaghetti which has been drained and rinsed. Pour mixture into greased loaf pan, 4 1/2 by 8 1/2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 35 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

THE GREATEST BAKING POWDER IMPROVEMENT IN 50 YEARS!

- BAKINGS LOOK BETTER!
THE FOOD CALCIUM in the new KC permits more even distribution of the fine, active ingredients throughout the baking powder. This promotes more uniform action—gives bakings the light, smooth texture and inviting rich appearance everyone enjoys.
- BETTER TASTE!
New KC assures full flavor of other ingredients—in your baked goods you get no soda taste from K.C.
- BETTER FOR YOU, TOO!
KC makes everything you bake with it a valuable source of FOOD CALCIUM—adding 2 to 5 times more FOOD CALCIUM than the fresh milk used in a baking, depending on the recipe. Thus KC joins milk as a fine source of this vital food element.

WINGS OF TOMORROW: The Story of Aviation

BY CHARLES TRACY
Aviation editor, Cleveland Press; former Army pilot
(Written for NEA Service)

(1) Light personal planes may be purchased over the counters of New York department stores today, a fact which indicates the widespread popularity flying will enjoy in the immediate future. Half a dozen manufacturers are building 50 to 50 planes daily to fill the demand, which is expected to reach 500,000 within five years. During the next decade roadable planes will be perfected. Fitted with rotors, they'll replace present-day convertibles. Experts predict that a million such craft will crowd the airways within the next score of years.

(2) Roof-top landing facilities for the "pin-wheel" craft may soon be as common as today's parking lots. Cities will become de-centralized as new suburbs are built around beautifully landscaped air-parks where all residents fly and the family garage contains the new type convertible. Approximately a third of the traffic today crowding the nation's freeways will take

GAYLE, white and shaken, was half way down the stairs next morning when she heard the maid saying, "I'll tell her, but Mrs. Bartlett isn't well."
"It's all right, Jane," she called. "I'm coming."
She met her mother-in-law at the front door. "Come in, please," she said. "I'm not sick—just tired; that's all."
Mrs. Bartlett murmured her regrets and moved into the living room, with Gayle following. Once they were seated, she lit a cigarette and considered Gayle thoughtfully before speaking. She looked especially handsome, Gayle thought, in a blue suit and small, pert hat. She unfastened her sable neckpiece and tossed it on the arm of the davenport. Then she spoke. "Bruce came home last night," she began, "to Sycamore, and he brought three tickets for speeding with him." She sighed. "He was very difficult."
Gayle said nothing. There seemed to be nothing for her to say.
Mrs. Bartlett stubbed her cigarette in a tray. "I have never seen him so moved," she went on. "He was quite beside himself. He can't lose you and Kent, my dear."
Then Gayle spoke. "He has lost us."
"Oh, no! That must not be; it simply must not be. He adores you—simply adores you, my dear." Words were being forced from Gayle, and so she spoke them. "It doesn't matter any longer," she said, her voice utterly toneless.
"But it does; it does, my dear. I am selfish, I know; I confess it. I am thinking of my boy—or his happiness. He simply can't be separated from you and Kent."
"Please, Mrs. Bartlett," Gayle held up her hand in protest. "I can't go over all this again. Bart hasn't had any consideration for Kent or me. I've been a faithful

Early Americans
Primitive human beings lived in North America as long as 11,000 to 20,000 years ago, perhaps as far back as the Ice Age, new evidence has shown.

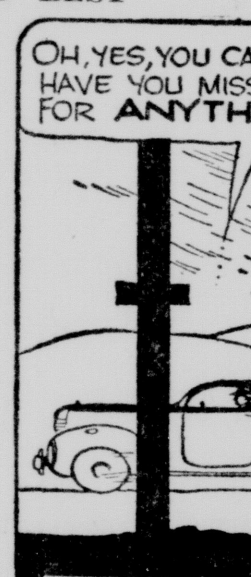

Arab fishermen and sailors live in the coastal villages of Iran—date farmers inhabit the plain that lies behind the coast.

No. 10: Planes for Everyone to the air. Cities which have waterfronts will pioneer this new era by establishing downtown landing mats now being planned.

(3) Playing an important role in the transition to the air is the present-day helicopter. Large cities now using helicopters to carry mail to outlying airports will find them useful as ambulances and as fire-fighters. De luxe helicopter taxis will rush the time-conscious business executive to widely scattered suburbs of expanded cities.

(4) In the more distant future, atomic power will also be applied to personal aircraft. Like the legendary magic carpet, the atom-powered plane will combine the high speed of the rocket with the conveniences of the helicopter. A trip to the Panama Canal or Alaska from Ohio will be merely an afternoon cruise. Families who like to travel may circle the globe on a week-end, pausing at the press of a button to hover over points of interest.

(TOMORROW: Trips for Tomorrow.)

Autos Were In Collision
A 1941 Chevrolet club coupe driven by Thomas R. Marsh, 519 West Eleventh street, Kansas City, Mo., collided with a '40 Plymouth coupe chauffeured by D. H. Herman, 922 South Limit avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Marsh was going east on Second street, and Mr. Herman south on Lamine when the accident occurred. No arrests were made.

Forecast Income Tax Cut
Possibly Run Into A Veto If Slash Program Is Passed
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—A 20-per cent—$3,000,000,000—slash in 1947 individual income taxes was forecast Tuesday by Rep. Knutson (Minn.) slated to be Republican chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee.

Moreover, Knutson said, the Republican majority will press through a separate bill cutting back the excise tax list, which includes liquor, jewelry, furs, cosmetics and a long list of other items.
Re-elected the bald, stubby Minnesotan is expected to succeed Robert L. Doughton, 83-year old North Carolina Democrat, as chairman of the tax-framing house committee.
But the Republican revenue-slicing drive may plunge head-on into a presidential veto.
For High Tax Program
The Democratic administration is committed to a high tax program, contending that stiff rates are essential to balance the budget and begin payments on the $262,000,000,000 national debt.
A two-third vote in both the house and senate would be necessary to override, if President Truman exercises his veto power.
Knutson made no mention of corporation taxes in a statement

Missouri Senator-elect and Wife

Republican James Kem and Mrs. Kem smile happily at their home in Kansas City as unofficial returns indicated that Kem had unseated Democratic incumbent Senator Frank P. Briggs, Macon, Missouri. (ASSOCIATED PRESS PHOTO)

telephoned from his Minnesota home. He said:
"There will be two tax bills in 1947. The day the 80th congress convenes I will introduce a bill providing for a 20 per cent cut in the individual income taxes effective for the calendar year 1947. It should be passed immediately."
"The second 1947 tax bill, on which public hearings will start early in February, will be directed to the elimination of some and downward adjustment of other excise taxes and to urgent administrative amendments to the present revenue code. Several of the changes in excise taxes should become effective July 1, 1947."
Knutson made no reference to corporation income taxes.

Insist on Expense Cut
Doughton has insisted on a policy of cutting government expenditures while maintaining tax levels high enough to balance the budget, reduced the national debt 36.5 per cent in 10 years and at the same time made four reductions in taxes.
"History repeats itself. After the First World War a Republican controlled congress balanced the budget, reduced the national debt 36.5 per cent in 10 years and at the same time made four reductions in taxes."

"Our immediate goal will be to cut expenditures, balance the budget, establish a surplus each to apply on the national debt and grant as much relief to a tax burdened nation as sound fiscal policies under governmental economies will permit."
"A sane level of taxation has a direct relationship to increased government revenue. This and many other traditionally American approaches to full employment, a high level of business activity and lower prices will again prevail."

Knutson said the unofficial house Republican tax study committee, headed by Representative Reed of New York, will meet in Washington later this month to begin drawing the Republican tax legislation.
Congress, in the first tax slicing bill in 16 years, cut the federal burdens by $6,000,000,000 for 1946; sweeping 12,000,000 low income persons off the tax rolls completely and killing the war imposed 95 percent excess profits tax on corporations.
The Republican proposal for a 20 per cent further cut would trim another $3,000,000,000 from individual burdens plus large savings on excise levies.

Prison Term To Mrs. Waters
LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 7—(AP)—Mrs. Bridget Waters, 26-year-old Irish war bride, was sentenced Tuesday to one to five years in Nevada state prison on her conviction of manslaughter in the death of her husband, Frank, 38-year-old wartime aviation technician.
District Judge A. S. Henderson denied a defense motion for a 20-day state of execution to permit the filing of an appeal and remanded the black-haired widow into the custody of the sheriff for transportation to Carson City.
Previously she had surrendered to the officer by her bondsman, Glen E. Bodell, a special investigator on the defense legal staff, who had furnished $5,000 bond on which she was liberated after a jury of eight men and four women returned the manslaughter verdict last Sunday.
Mrs. Waters broke down weeping for a few moments just before she was sentenced as her attorney, L. O. Hawkins, pleaded with the court that she was insane. That contention had been ruled out during the trial.
Immediately after sentencing Mrs. Waters was taken to the county jail. Under the sentence she was eligible for parole in 11 months.
Divorce Is Petitioned
A petition for divorce was filed in circuit court Wednesday by Jacquetta J. Prowell against William H. Prowell. The petition states the couple was married April 24, 1937 and separated November 5, 1946. The petition states further that two children were born of this union, Susan Grace, 8, and Nancy Lee, 6.

The plaintiff asks for the care and custody of the two minor children and also for suitable amount for support. The attorney for the plaintiff is William F. Brown.

Blind Student To Legislature
Brookfield, Mo., November 7—(AP)—V. Earl Cox, 31, blind law student at the University of Missouri, was elected state representative from Linn county Tuesday without conducting a personal campaign.

A Democrat, Cox defeated his Republican opponent, Fred Clen-feller, 3,579 to 3,054, although he was confined to his home here by illness the last few weeks.
Cox has fought his way to the front as an Independent, resourceful man since an automobile accident left him blind at the age of 17 when he was a junior in high school, and apparently wrecked his ambitions for a career in law.

Taken To Hospital Leg Fractured
Henry Fleming, 64 years old, well known former telegrapher for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, received a comminuted fracture of the right leg just above the ankle Wednesday evening. How he received the fracture is not definitely known by the police who are conducting an investigation.
Fleming was found at the Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger depot by the police who had gone there to answer a call. When they approached Fleming he told them his leg was broken. He first said he had fallen, then he said he was hit by a green Chevrolet automobile at Third street and Lamine avenue.
Later Leroy Scott, owner of the Black and White Cab Co., who resides at 401 East Fifth street, and Cecil Franklin, 2222 South Missouri avenue, went to police headquarters. They gave a statement to the police stating they learned Fleming had a broken leg and went there to tell them what they knew.
Both men reported Mr. Fleming walked into the Black and White Cab Co., office, 216 East Third street, and asked for a cab to take him to the M-K-T depot where he declared he was going to catch No. 6 passenger train. They reported that as he stepped outside he fell and they assisted him up and into the cab. They also said they helped him into the station, but did not know he had a broken leg. Mr. Fleming was taken to the Bothwell hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance, where x-ray pictures were taken of the leg. Dr. Gordon Stauffer attended him and placed the leg in a cast.
